

CNIB gets big cheque from local radio clubs

In June, the Georgian Bay Amateur Radio Club and the Bruce and Port Elgin amateur radio clubs held the second charity auction and hobby market. The auction consisted mainly of used computer equipment donated by local businesses with the proceeds going to the CNIB amateur radio program. This year's donation of $2,730 was the largest made by any radio club in Canada. Tom St. Amand (VE3TSA), left, presents the cheque to CNIB representatives John Machnacky (VE3EJN), George Fanjoy (VE3PEB) and Bill Loucks (VE3AR), right. The club extends special thanks to Sydenham Auctioneers and Paul Blais for their help.
